Flood Waters in '37 Kept Rising; Crest of 66 Feet

(Second of Two Articles)

FLOOD WATERS continued to rise and Jan. 25 Shawneetown was a deserted city. The steamer Patricia Barrett took between 400 and 500 refugees plus some others who had gone into Shawneetown and steamed away to Mt. Vernon, Ind., and Henderson, Ky.

The water level kept going up and up until early in February it reached a crest of 66 feet—an all-time high and six feet over the high levee at Shawneetown.

Communication, which had been cut off for a while, was resumed by short wave until the Patricia Barrett pulled out.

In Harrisburg, people continued to evacuate the low parts of the town, and areas of the surrounding countryside. Centers were set up here for evacuees. The National Guard came in to assist with the problems and drinking water was brought in from other towns.

Four thousand toiled at Cairo to save that city and one-third of Evansville was under water.

But back home, boats carried people between high ground starting at McKinley school and the upland area, as a considerable part of the town was inundated. Union church services were held.

January was over and the rain for the month was 15.13 inches here. Neighboring towns were helping with the refugees. Governor Horner came to town to inspect the situation.

Sahara 3 mine in East Harrisburg was flooded. The Red Cross, Salvation Army and WPA worked heroically.

The river crested at Shawneetown Feb. 2 or 3, and then flood waters began to recede.

Deputy Sheriffs Ezra Tolbert and Gilbert Healey and Bob Hughes, farmer, drowned when their boat sank in flood water about a half mile from Ingram Hill church. Jack Rodgers, 17, of Muddy, was scalded to death at Sahara 12.

By Feb. 12 Harrisburg was fast returning to normalcy. The cleanup was under way to move Shawneetown to higher ground.

And it was just a short time later that Harrisburg took steps to keep the water out of Harrisburg, should flood waters come again.

No 1937 floods have come, but on a couple of occasions there has been enough water to close the gates. Enough water to let us know that these walls will keep out of the town flood waters of 1937 proportions.

Thus ends a brief account of something real big of twenty years ago this month.

Throws Support To President On 'Doctrine'

Democratic Leader Stops Guessing On His Position

WASHINGTON (U)—Speaker Sam Rayburn today threw his full support behind President Eisenhower's request for military and economic powers to meet the Communist threat in the Middle East.

The Democratic leader told reporters he wanted to put a stop to "guessing on my position" on the Eisenhower Doctrine.

He had previously been reported undecided or opposed to granting Mr. Eisenhower discretionary authority to spend an extra 200 million dollars in economic aid this year in the Middle East.

He also had been reported as favoring giving Mr. Eisenhower a statement that Congress supports the President in his Middle East negotiations—in place of an actual grant of authority to U. S. military forces, if necessary, to block overt Communist aggression in the area.

"I think we have got to give the President this military authority about as he asked for it," Rayburn said.

He said he meant a grant of legal power to use U. S. forces—not a statement of blanket congressional approval of administration foreign policy in the Middle East.

Rayburn said he also thought it would be "judicious for Congress to go along with the authority to use the economic aid" Mr. Eisenhower requested.

CHOU, BULGARIAN BLAST DOCTRINE AS U. S. BID IN MID-EAST

MOSCOW (U)—The premiers of Communist China and the Soviet Union today blasted the Eisenhower Doctrine as an American attempt to take over control of the Middle East.

Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, just back from a tour of Poland and Hungary, joined with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin in calling for greater vigilance to combat the American Mideast plan.

They spoke to some 3,500 Muscovites in a "friendship meeting" in the white marble Supreme Soviet chamber of the Kremlin.

Bulgarian warmly supported Red China's plea for a seat in the United Nations and for the "liberation" of Formosa.

Before leaving Budapest, Chou and Hungarian Premier János Kádár said in a joint statement that the United States is "the main ringleader of the imperialists." The statement declared that President Eisenhower's policy is to extend the U. S. zone of power, subjugate the people of the Near East, stir up rebellion and resume the cold war.

The Swishers' bodies were sent to Cushing, Okla., their former home, for burial.

Indict SIU Youth For Murder in Fatal Shooting

Murphysboro Woman Also Indicted for Slaying Husband

MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (U)—A Southern Illinois University student was under indictment for murder today in the fatal shooting of his football hero roommate from Danvers, Mass.

Fred Sinroll, 20, Sterling, Ill., a sophomore at the Carbondale school, was indicted late Wednesday by a Jackson County Circuit Court grand jury.

He was charged with the slaying last Dec. 12 of Robert Battara, 19, a star end on the SIU football team, following a college prank.

Battara was killed during an argument which occurred when Sinroll returned to his room and found his roommate had hidden his bed clothes. Sinroll maintains the shooting was an accident.

Two other roommates, John Abramovitch, 21, Haverhill, Mass., and Henry Hillman, 18, Park Ridge, Ill., witnessed the shooting.

Sheriff Howard Cheatham said new bond would be set for the defendant, who was free on $15,000 bond. He is expected to be tried in the April term of Circuit Court.

The jury also indicted Mrs. Willie May Langston, 32, Murphysboro, on murder charges in the shotgun slaying of her husband, Jesse, last November. Mrs. Langston said she killed her husband in self defense.

Minister Preaches Own Funeral By Recording to Wind Up Career

JOHNSTON CITY, Ill. (U)—Elder Charles M. Weaver of the Primitive Baptist Church here preaches his own funeral sermon today.

The Rev. Weaver, a minister of the Primitive or "hardshell" Baptist sect for 62 years, died Tuesday at the age of 89 after a heart attack.

One of the elder's desires in recent years was to say the last words over his own body as a windup to his career.

Seven years ago he made preparations for the funeral by putting a 15-minute sermon on a 12-inch record.

Weaver's widow, Alice, and funeral director Roland Murman arranged to play the record at today's service. Both have heard the sermon before.

Mrs. Weaver said the record is almost as if he were preaching someone else's funeral.

Weaver started the oration with out any introductory remarks and hardly mentioned himself anywhere in the sermon which runs through both sides of the record.

Murman recalled that the minister had played the record for him several years ago, "and seemed quite proud of it."

The Primitive Baptist sect is ultra-conservative and is opposed to missionary work, Sunday school and the use of instrumental church music.

During his long ministry Weaver was pastor of numerous churches throughout Missouri and southern Illinois. In recent years he had been in semi-retirement.

The Rev. Homer Young of Nashville, Ill., officiated at the service but refrained from adding to Weaver's sermon.

Burial was at Lakeview Cemetery with most of the small church's congregation in attendance.

Mother of Att'y R. C. Jelliffe Dies at Evanston

Mrs. Ethel Jelliffe, widow of Dr. M. B. Jelliffe, who resided at 1335 Lowell Blvd., Springfield, Ill., died last night in a hospital in Evanston.

She was the mother of Attorney R. C. Jelliffe of Harrisburg.

Mrs. Jelliffe was a member of the Presbyterian church in Springfield and was quite active in civic affairs, having been past president of the State chapter of the P. E. O. Sisterhood. She was also active in the Medical association when it was first being formed.

Besides Attorney Jelliffe she leaves three other children: a son, Mart, Springfield, and two daughters, Martha of Nashville, Ill., and Marion, Evanston, with whom she had been living for the past two years.

The body is being returned to Springfield and will lie in state at the Bisch funeral home. Funeral plans are incomplete.

City Receives $5,303 for Sales Tax in October

Harrisburg's collection of the half per cent city sales tax on October business transactions will bring the city $5,303.84. It was revealed today by the Illinois Department of Revenue at Springfield.

Amounts other southern Illinois cities will receive:

Carrier Mills $696.46, Eldorado $2,030.39, Galatia $176.50, Raleigh $88.08, Stonefort $105.22; Anna $2,655.81, Broughton $41.68, Cairo $4,879.43, Carbondale $7,088.99, Carmi $4,826.83, Cave-in-Rock $199.43, Centralia $10,093.35, Chester $2,097.59; Christopher $1,683.13, Creal Springs $145.07, Dahlgren $243.21, Du Quoin $3,345.95, Elizabethtown, $196.07, Enfield $235.90, Equality $271.02, Goreville $158.27, Herrin $4,936.21, Hurst $161.26; Johnston City $1,040.15, Jonesboro $553.35, Junction $43.78, Marion $6,468.13, McLeansboro $2,396.75, Mill Shoals $119.02, Mount City $342.05, Mounds $777.54; Mt. Vernon $10,467.59, Murphysboro $5,568.98, Norris City $561.13, Olmsted $127.13, Pinckneyville $2,190.13, Ridgway $752.54, Rosiclare $602.19;

Shawneetown $583.70, Thompsonville $155.34, Vienna $1,093.24, Wayne City $673.26, West Frankfort $4,781.39, Zeigler $519.98.

Death Takes Mrs. J. P. Holloway, 75

Josie W. Holloway, 75, of 1029 South McKinley, died at 7:30 a. m. of a heart condition. She had been seriously ill for the past two weeks.

She was born in Logan County, Ky., Oct. 29, 1881. Her husband, J. P. Holloway, died in 1937. Mr. and Mrs. Holloway were the founders of the first Holloway's restaurant.

She was a member of the McKinley Avenue Baptist church. The body is at the Gaskins funeral home and funeral plans will be announced later.

Surviving are three sons, Lloyd of Pontiac, Mich., Hubert Holloway, Chicago, and John Holloway of Venice, Calif., and one daughter, Mrs. Laura Hess of Chicago. A son, Ed Holloway, preceded her in death, also a daughter, Mrs. Ruby Ashbridge.

Mrs. Holloway also leaves seven grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren.

Rites Here Saturday for Ozy Maurutto, Husband of Former Resident

Ozy Maurutto, 56, whose home was in the Bissell Hill subdivision of St. Louis, Mo., died at 8 a. m. Wednesday at St. Mary's hospital in Clayton. Death was caused by a coronary thrombosis.

By profession Mr. Maurutto was a terrazzo floor finisher.

He was born in Sao Paulo in South America.

He leaves his wife, the former Giovina Pesavento, and a brother, Odino Maurutto, St. Louis. His wife is the sister of Mrs. John Molinarolo, John Pesavento and Mrs. Leo Podorsicki, all of Muddy.

The body will lie in state in the Harrisburg funeral home from Friday morning till the funeral hour which is 9 a. m. Saturday at St. Mary's church. Rosary will be said Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the chapel. Father T. G. Bruns will officiate and burial will be in Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Economy-Minded Congressmen to Try to Trim Eisenhower Budget

WASHINGTON (U)—Economy-minded congressmen promised today to try their utmost to trim President Eisenhower's record peacetime spending budget of $71.8 billion. But they conceded it would be a tough task.

No one believed that the budget could be trimmed enough to justify a general tax cut and still keep the government operating in the black.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), a leader of the economy bloc in the Senate, said, "My experience has been that it is very difficult to cut a president's budget." Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) agreed, particularly "in times like these" when the nation is prosperous.

Foreign Aid Main Target

Foreign aid funds will be the principal target of the economy advocates.

Mr. Eisenhower proposed spending in the new fiscal year beginning July 1 $14.3 billion on foreign military and economic aid, an increase of $250 million over this year. He requested $4.4 billion in appropriations, or new obligatory authority, as against $3.7 approved

Two-Man Prison Team Inspects Site in Pope-Hardin County Area

A two-man federal prison site field committee visited the Pope-Hardin County area to inspect a site on a high Ohio river bluff near Shettleville as a possible location for a new federal maximum security institution. The men offered no comment as to how it compared with other sites.

Looking over the proposed sites and answering questions from a Pope-Hardin delegation headed by Mayor Otis Lamar of Rosiclare were John T. Willingham, deputy assistant director, U. S. Bureau of Prisons, and E. W. Fennell, engineer with the Bureau.

The two had been contacted at Paducah, Ky., by the director of the Bureau, and they came into Illinois to see this location after having looked at sites in Kentucky and Tennessee.

Two other federal prison committees previously had come into Illinois to look at locations.

The Pope-Hardin committee pointed out that 2,500 acres were available, that Illinois Central railroad tracks ran immediately below the bluff, that there are ample schools and churches and that a first-class road can be built from Route 34 to the site which is approximately two and a quarter miles from the highway.

Mr. Willingham explained to the group that a maximum security institution will be built somewhere midway between the prisons at Atlanta, Ga., and Leavenworth, Kansas, to relieve present overcrowded conditions.

"It definitely is not a prison to replace Alcatraz," he stated.

He said the committee had looked over all brochures regarding sites before it left but that the Pope-Hardin brochure had not arrived before they left. However, he added, it would be looked into when the two arrived back in Washington.

"When a number of general areas look like they might do," Mr. Willingham stated, "engineering tests will be made. Teams will go in and make core drillings."

Need Visibility

Mr. Lamar told him that the soil structure already had been cleared by the University of Illinois, that core drillings had been made in the area.

"In a maximum security institution," Mr. Willingham stated, "our main concern will be with the visibility of the fringe area."

He said the walled area would occupy about 20 acres and that roughly about a square mile of land would be needed in all.

He stated that the project of building the prison could include some clearing to bring about the visibility needed but that the cost definitely would be a factor in securing visibility in the buffer zone, or fringe area.

All findings will be studied in Washington, he stated, with final selection resting with an attorney-general's committee. There have been 130 submissions from the area specified, he declared.

Fire at Farm Home Touches Off Chain of Bad Luck

ROYALTON, Ill. (U)—A fire at a farm home between Royalton and Elkhart Wednesday set off an unusual chain of bad luck.

Mrs. Benny Krela was washing her hair when the blaze broke out. She grabbed her three children, jumped into the car and drove to Royalton five miles away to notify the fire department. The Krelas had no phone.

Second Blast Kills One; Blame Seeping Gas

Workmen Find Boy's Body in First Ruins; Search for Father

PEORIA, Ill. (U)—A second explosion rocked Peoria today killing at least one person even while firemen and rescue workers were searching for a man missing in another explosion that killed at least three persons.

The second blast in the north section of Peoria could be felt at the Peoria Journal-Star building nearly five miles away. Identity of the person killed in the second blast was not immediately known.

It was believed both explosions were caused by seeping gas which came from lines burst by cold weather.

Today's explosion was reported creating shock waves as far away as Bloomington, 40 miles southeast of here.

Earlier firemen recovered the body of an 11-year-old boy missing in the ruins of a two-story building in West Peoria which was hit by the first explosion.

He was Robert Einfeldt, who lived in a second story apartment of the residential and commercial building. His father, Robert J. Einfeldt, 33, still is missing.

Workmen found the boy's body in the tangled debris. His death brings the total of known dead to three.

Seven persons were injured, two of them critically.

William G. Shoop, an attendant at a nearby filling station, and Roger L. White, 18, suffered cuts and bruises.

Einfeldt's father-in-law, John J. Heitzman, 61, owner of the building and Perry Traub, 40, operator of a market in building, were killed in the double explosion Wednesday night which ripped apart the structure and Heitzman's adjoining home.

Injured in the blast and fire which followed were Einfeldt's youngest son, 8-year-old Kenny; Heitzman's wife, the children's grandmother, Mrs. Opal Heitzman, 60; Prentiss Pickard, who police described as an apparent passerby; a neighbor, Mrs. Orval Strassberger, and a bus driver, Ben Davis, who had just stepped out of a gas station across the street from the building.

Mrs. Einfeldt, the children's mother, escaped the explosion because she was attending choir practice at a nearby church. Police said the occupants of a second apartment in the building also were absent when the blast occurred.

Police said the force of the blast rattled windows up to three miles away and threw the bodies of Heitzman and Traub across the street.

It was believed the explosion was caused by a gas leak the two victims were investigating at the time. The Central Illinois Light Co. said they had received a call that there was leaking gas in the vicinity and a service truck had been dispatched.

Firemen fought the blaze for more than three hours. The building housed a paint and hardware store and a beauty salon as well as the market on the main floor and two second-floor apartments.

The utility company sealed gas mains leading into the area shortly after the explosion, which also downed electric wires. The action left thousands of Peoria and West Peoria residents without heat in 5 below zero weather.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

He that humblest himself shall be exalted. — Luke 14:11.

We have known men to fall because of their egotism. We have met countless great financiers, self-made men, and all were humble and approachable. It's hard to get past their secretaries, but exalted men are in our experience without exception, most approachable and simple men.

One Man's Meat

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

Prime Minister Nehru of India, who has recently been pleased by American attitudes in the Middle East crisis, is less happy over President Eisenhower's proposal for standby authority to use force against an aggressor in that area.

Nehru sincerely believes that military pacts of any sort are a detriment to peace. He would like to see the scrapping of NATO, SEATO, and the Baghdad agreement, on the ground that they are all provocative.

Inevitably, then, he finds no joy in the President's newest suggestion, even though it has been made clear we propose to act only on the request of a victimized nation in the Middle East.

Actually, there never has been any doubt of what America would do if Russia employed armed force in the Middle East. We have always been ready to meet force with force. But the administration believes there is additional security value in translating this fact into declared official policy, backed by both the Executive and the Congress.

To Nehru this is wrong. But what he does not easily understand is that policies which are right for India are not necessarily right for the United States or other nations. India feels it can serve the cause of peace most fully by keeping free of all ties, and maintaining lines of communication with both East and West. Obviously any firm alignments would compromise this objective.

But neither the United States nor any other already "committed" free country can casually dismantle any part of the anti-Communist defense network without imperiling freedom everywhere—including India.

Of course some nation must take the initiative if the military barriers are ever to be dropped and the arsenals abandoned. But the point here is that America has made countless good faith proposals for A and H-bomb bans, general disarmament, and broad political settlements in both Europe and Asia. None have ever been matched honestly by the Soviet Union.

Without positive assurances of equal performance on the Communist side, any scrapping of treaties or armistices or arsenals by the free nations would be only an invitation to disaster.

It was not America but Russia which made arms deals with Egypt and Syria. It was not America but Russia which threatened to send "volunteer" soldiers to the Middle East at the height of the crisis.

We have no aggressive designs. We simply act to counter the Kremlin's aggressive gestures. Any time these cease and the Russians offer good faith settlements, we are ready. Until then our own safety—and indirectly that of India and other uncommitted lands—rests upon the sturdiness of our defense posture.

Eat to Build Resistance To Winter Colds

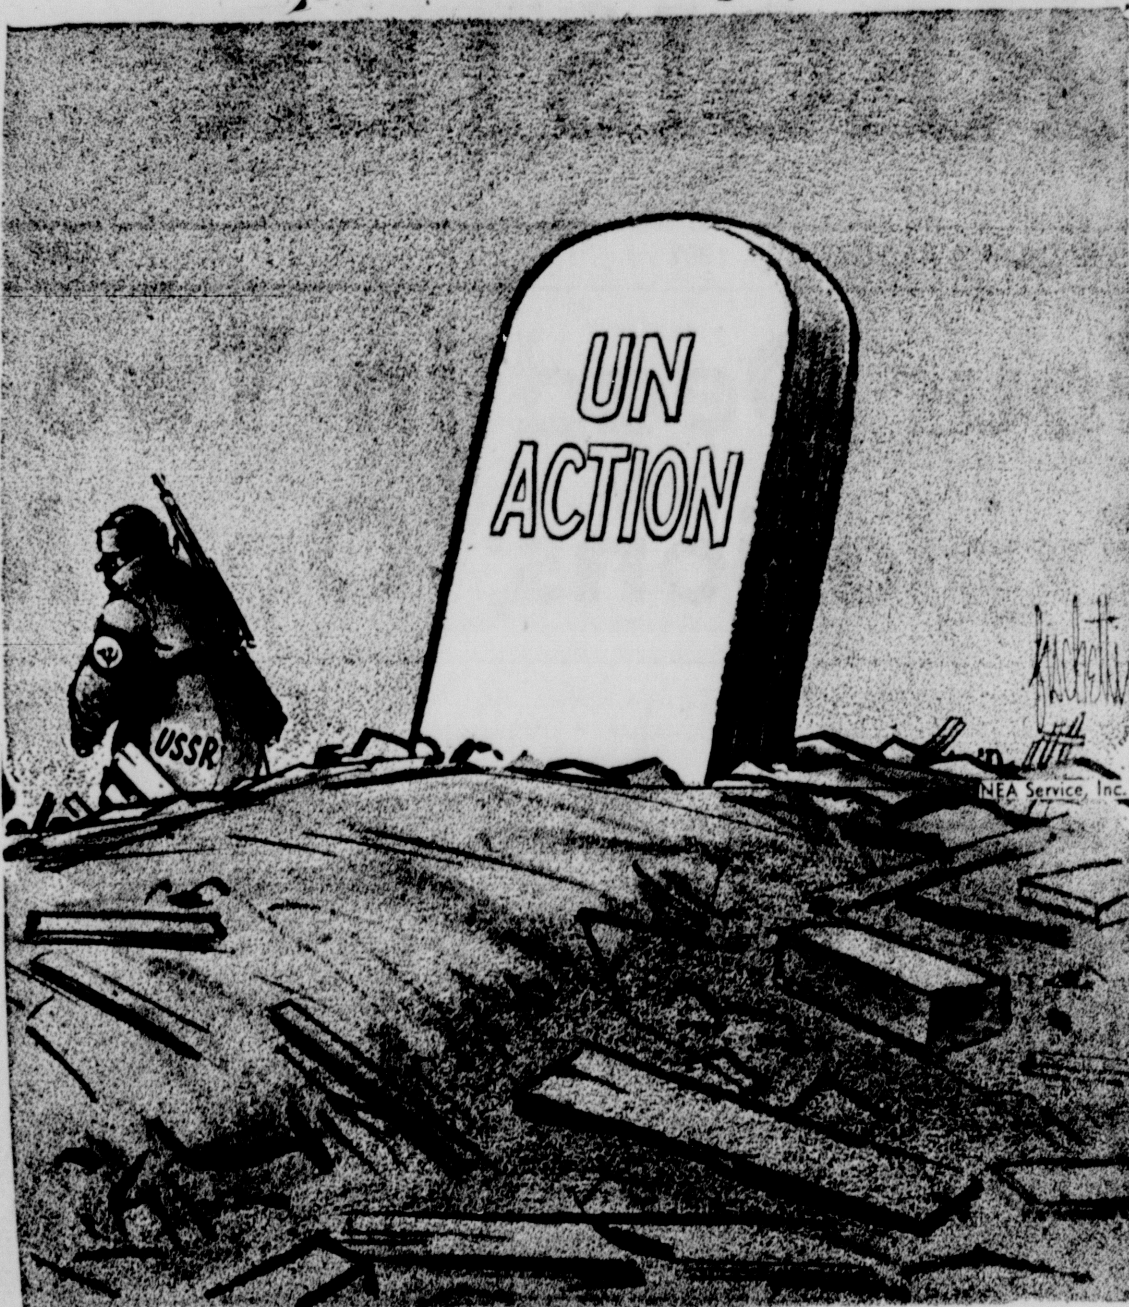

LINCOLN, Neb. — AP — Your diet could be the cause of your winter series of colds.

Health specialist Helen Becker of the University of Nebraska says if you are in the habit of eating little or no breakfast and a hit-or-miss lunch you can probably blame your colds on this.

Health authorities suggest trying to build up resistance to colds by eating a good breakfast and a good lunch.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Ike Should Send Harry Truman To India; Knowland's Senate Exit Starts Political Furor In California; Dulles Would Not Go To Aid Of Israel Under Eisenhower Doctrine.

WASHINGTON. — Now that President Eisenhower has told his staff he will not accept Prime Minister Nehru's invitation to visit India, and now that Harry Truman has come so emphatically to the support of the Near East doctrine it might be a good time for some presidential reciprocity.

In brief, now is the time for Truman to be drafted to take a good-will trip to India and Southeast Asia.

This suggestion is not made for the purpose of glorifying Mr. Truman, but because the status of American prestige in Southeast Asia is not good, also because American envoys in that area have been urging the State Department to send a top-level American as a good-will ambassador.

Just as the Queen of England, Princess Margaret and the Duke of Edinburgh are kept busy visiting various parts of the world, so the United States must necessarily send distinguished citizens on good-will tours. Bulganin and Khrushchev got a tremendous reception when they visited India, Burma, Pakistan and Afghanistan, but nothing of moment has been done since then to counteract their success. Secretary Dulles did make a trip to this area—with little or no benefit. The Burmese government even refused to let him land on their territory.

Last year Mr. Truman took a trip on his own to Western Europe, got a tremendous reception, made a lot of friends for the U. S. A. He has a knack of rubbing shoulders with the man on the street in a way that sells democracy. He was also the first to initiate the Marshall Plan and the Point 4 program, which helped save Asiatic countries from communism in the post-war years.

However, when Truman's name is mentioned around the White House it evokes sour remarks from the present incumbent. Ike has been bitter at Harry ever since the 1952 campaign when the ex-President criticized Eisenhower's handling of Russian affairs in Berlin immediately after V-E Day.

Politics being politics, however, the President should learn that a lot of things that happen in the heat of a campaign must be forgotten afterward. And he would give a real boost to the free world's fight against communism if he sent his predecessor to Asia on a good-will mission.

KNOWLAND'S MERRY-GO-ROUND

The political pot is still boiling as a result of Sen. Bill Knowland's bow-out of the Senate. Here are some of the brews being concocted: Gov. Goodie Knight of California is being talked about as secretary of labor. Knight is one of the few Republican governors who have won friends among labor. His promotion to the Labor Department would pave the way for Knowland to run for governor. Vice-President Nixon wouldn't favor this, but some of the men around Ike would like to stave off a split with the Knowland-GOP conservatives. . . . Jim Mitchell, able secretary of labor, wanted to resign, but has agreed to stay on for the time being. Not a man of wealth, Mitchell has a hard time making both ends meet in Washington, probably will bow out before the next four years.

Immediately after Knowland's announcement, Robert Kirkwood, California comptroller, phoned him to ask his O. K. to run for the Senate. Knowland gave the O. K.

... Nixon forces may put a man in the GOP primary race against Kirkwood—possibly Congressman Pat Hillings. Strategy would be to block Knowland forces from putting their man, Kirkwood, into the Senate. . . . If Nixon lets Knowland get too firm a grip on California, he's a dead duck in his race for President in 1960. Nixon is certain to face some primary races, can hardly escape a primary showdown in California. The Knowland machine could probably beat him. . . . Democrats are gloating over the Republican furor in California. With Republicans split, they regard the Senate seat as theirs. It looks so promising that Pat Brown, popular attorney general who has his eyes on the governorship, might run for the Senate instead. Other Democratic candidates are: Alan Cranston, head of the California Democratic council; Dick Richards, who made a good race last November; and Congressman Cecil King. Cranston has the advantage of being from the north and heading the Democratic outfit that endorses the candidates.

NO AID FOR ISRAEL

One fact which has raised congressional eyebrows over the proposed Eisenhower doctrine is that it would not be applied to protect Israel, even if Egypt, with Russian arms and technicians, attacked.

Chief danger of war in the Near East is that Colonel Nasser with his tremendous supply of Russian arms will attack Israel. Having won a big diplomatic victory over the West, yet smarting over defeat from the Israeli army, Nasser is in a position where he has to make new moves to maintain his reputation. The most likely move is against Israel.

However, in answer to questions from Congressman Jim Fulton, Pennsylvania Republican, Dulles ruled out any United States action to stop an attack on Israel.

"Would we go to Israel's assistance if it asked for help?" inquired Congressman Fulton.

"The plan doesn't apply unless it is being attacked by a government under the control of international communism," replied Dulles.

"But if the attacking country has arms and technicians provided from Communist sources?" pressed the Pennsylvania congressman, referring to Egypt or Syria.

"No sir," replied the secretary of state.

Stop dreaming... PRICE IT!

The Chieftain costs less than a lot of the "low-priced" cars yet delivers MORE POWER—MORE WHEELBASE—MORE ROOM!

Think this big, brawny beauty would fetch a fancy figure? Not the Chieftain. It's made to order for wishful thinkers—priced right down there with the strictly budget jobs! Surprised? You'll be even more so when you look over the long list of premium features in this brilliant newcomer. Under that glamorous garb, for example, is a big, rock-rugged X-member frame, riding solidly atop a whopping 122-inch wheelbase! Cushioning each wheel is Level-Line Ride, Pontiac's new dimension in suspension, bringing you the smoothest, safest ride you've ever known. And up front is the deep-chested new 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 engine—as sweet a performer as ever came down the pike! So, come on, stop dreaming! Come in and have a look at this big and beautiful automobile's eye-rubbing price! Size it up! We're willing to wager your next step will be into a Pontiac Chieftain!

Legislative Group to Recommend Admission Fee to Some State Parks

SPRINGFIELD — A legislative commission reported Tuesday it would recommend continuation of "some sort of admission fee" to some state parks.

Commission Chairman Mrs. E. E. Byerrum, Warrenville, said the commission would meet again Monday to draft its recommendation, which must be presented to the Legislature before March 1.

Mrs. Byerrum said the recommendation would include the proposed sale of an "annual stamp" at $2, which would allow admission to all of Illinois 45 state parks without further charge.

She said the group was "following a national trend" in charging admission fees to state park users.

Mrs. Byerrum said there are now seven state parks charging 10 cents per car and 10 cents per person. They are Grand Marais, Illinois Beach, Matthiessen, Mis-issippi Palisades, Pere Marquette, Starved Rock and White Pines state parks.

The seven parks netted $60,082 from admission charges during 1956.

She said under the commission recommendation, the Illinois Conservation Department would select the parks which would charge entrance fees on "an economic need" basis.

Income from the admission charges, plus more than two million dollars a year from the state general fund, goes for maintenance and improvement of existing park facilities, she said.

The name of Michigan is said to have come from the Chippewa Indian "majiagan," which means "clearing."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.
(Written for NEA Service)

People are so accustomed to having mechanical accessories function that they become impatient when the least little fluctuation from normalcy occurs. Life has become so mechanical that we have overextended our faith in cams and gears and springs and push buttons.

The strange thing is that we have put so much faith in these inventions of man that we have overlooked our faith in God. After all God makes everything possible. We must renew our faith in the creator of life.

We need God to calm our troubled minds and souls. Our faith in His love and in His power would relieve much of the frustration and confusion which besets men and women.

Brushy

Paul Droit gave an interesting and informative talk on a trip to the South at Brushy P. T. A. Thursday evening. He accompanied his narration with colored slides. Many were of historical value and enjoyed by adults and children alike. Refreshments were served under the supervision of Mrs. Beulah Reynolds and Mrs. Mildred Arnold. The latter took the place of Mrs. Hazel McIlrath who was unable to attend because of illness. The president, Mrs. Louise Golliber, reminded the group of the February Founders Day program at which time Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, district director, will be the main speaker. A potluck supper is to be enjoyed at that time at 6 p. m. All patrons are invited.

The Brushy Consolidated grade school teachers, Mrs. Marie Jones, Mrs. Wilma Gidcomb and Mrs. Mabel Pankey were Thursday evening dinner guests of the John C. Small family.

Condolence is extended to the families of Mrs. Logan Kelley and Hal Ryan in their bereavement. Mrs. Lloyd Kimmel of DuBerry, Fla., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Droit and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Riegel and other relatives.

New Rank Insignias For State Police Officers, Sergeants

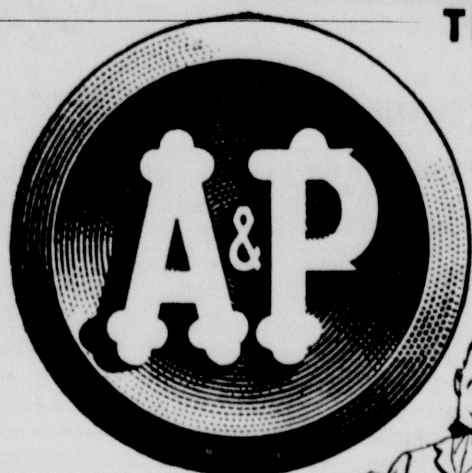

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Rank insignia for assistant superintendents, captains, lieutenants and sergeants of the Illinois State police will be worn on the shirt collar only from now on, Chief William H. Morris announced today. Sergeants will receive new insignia to replace their sleeve chevrons. The new rank designation will be a small metal collar badge in the shape of three chevrons. Other commanding officers will retain the insignia shapes used previously, but the badges will be smaller and will be placed on shirt collars instead of on their shoulders, Chief Morris said.

The University of Michigan campus has 31 different libraries containing a total of 2,055,139 volumes.

NOTICE TO LET CONTRACT
Notice is hereby given that the Commissioners of the Black Branch Drainage District in the County of Saline and State of Illinois, will on the 28th day of January, A. D. 1957, at the hour of 10 o'clock A. M. of said day, at the office of the County Clerk of Saline County, Illinois, and ex-officio Clerk of said Drainage District, in the City of Harrisburg, Saline County, Illinois, let the contract for certain repairing and cleaning out the drainage system of the said Drainage District according to the plans and specifications prepared and now on file with Soil Conservation Service, Harrisburg, Illinois.

The engineers estimate of the work is as follows:
1. Channel excavation and spreading spoil, 31,000 cubic yards.
2. Clearance of right-of-way, 3.56 miles.
3. The said contract will be let as a whole for the entire work in accordance with the plans and specifications for a single total contract price, and said district shall not be bound by the estimates of the engineers.

4. The contractor shall spread soil on the sides of the said ditch within the right-of-way in accordance with the plans.
5. The contractor shall furnish the labor and install tile outlets where such are injured, broken, or destroyed by the work, the tile which will be furnished by the land owners.

6. All work is to be done according to the plans and specifications prepared by the engineers, and acceptance shall be after approval by the engineers and the Commissioners of said District.

7. The contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder, and the party securing the contract shall give a bond in the full amount of the contract price, satisfactory to the Commissioners and conditioned on a performance of the entire work according to the plans and specifications, and the written contract to be entered into between the successful bidder and the said District; each bid shall be accompanied by a certified check payable to the Commissioners in the sum of $50.00, and the Commissioners reserve the right to accept or reject any or all bids.
Dated this 9th day of January, A. D. 1957.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of William Agin, who died 3 years ago, Jan. 17th:
Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
Sadly missed by the Children.

Mrs. E. D. Gidcomb Dorcas Class Hostess

Mrs. E. D. Gidcomb, 328 East Dayton, was hostess Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Dorcas Sunday School class of McKinley Avenue Baptist church. She served delicious refreshments and the following were present: Mrs. Ada Rann, teacher; Miss Elsie Tyndall, Mrs. Ruth Morse, Mrs. Lelia Raley, Mrs. Eva Rogers, Mrs. Myrtle Davis, Miss Della Oshel, Mrs. Cora Shell and the hostess' daughter, Beverly.

Mrs. Shell was an especially invited guest. In the absence of Mrs. John Denny, president of the class, Mrs. Ruth Morse, vice-president, conducted the meeting. Mrs. Raley led in prayer, and the devotional theme, taken from Psalms 1-21-23, was presented by Miss Tyndall who also conducted a Bible quiz. The song, "Take My Life" was sung.

Emma Hall Hostess To Sunshine Club

The Sunshine club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Emma Hall at Raleigh.

There were 10 members present, as follows: Mrs. Sada Irvin, Mrs. Delia Williams, Mrs. Edna Lasseter, Mrs. Amy Taylor, Mrs. Keturah Lasseter, Mrs. Eleanor Richardson, Mrs. Mattie Smith, Mrs. Cora Naugle, Mrs. Ruth Bramlet and Mrs. Emma Hall.

The devotion was given by the president and roll call was answered with Bible quotations. New officers were elected.

Door prize went to Mrs. Mattie Smith.

Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, coffee and tea were served to the group.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Sada Irvin.

Posture and Style Talks At Garden Heights Home Bureau

Mrs. John Denny was assisted by Mrs. Booker Shell Tuesday in entertaining members of Garden Heights Home Bureau unit. Thirteen were present at the meeting, over which Mrs. Willie Cummins presided as chairman.

One of the first things done was to take up a collection for the polio drive.

Mrs. Denny presented the minor topic, "Posture," and the major topic, "Style in Dress," was presented by Mrs. Robert Mugge and Mrs. W. J. Calvert. Following a quiz contest by Mrs. Joseph Smith, homemade cookies and coffee were served.

The chemical industry is the biggest salt customer, consuming about 68 per cent of the 20,000,000 tons produced annually.

United Friendship Club Holds Monthly Meeting

The United Friendship club met Jan. 8 with Elmer Dean Johnson as the hostess.

The business session was opened by the president, Freda Grubbs; the dues were collected and minutes were read by the secretary, Jean Pritchett.

The following officers for the next six months were elected: President, Freda Grubbs; vice president, Goldie Grubbs; secretary, Carol Forster; treasurer, Jean Pritchett, and reporter, Elmer Dean Johnson.

Birthday gifts were presented to Ethel Colbert and Helen Rice. Door prize winner was Beverly Grubbs, and banner winner for the month was Louise Johnson.

Members present were Goldie Grubbs, Jean Pritchett, Virginia Murphy, Belva Morris, Freda Grubbs, Helen Rice, Louise Johnson and the hostess, Elmer Dean Johnson. Visitors were Brenda and Ricky Rice, Debra Pritchett, Paulette Bennett and Beverly Grubbs.

A potluck supper was enjoyed at 6:30 p. m. after which games were played with prizes awarded the winners.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Freda Grubbs in February.

Lon W. Gasaway of Marion, who is very well known in this city, is in the Marion Memorial hospital with a broken pelvis. He has been in the hospital since Dec. 15 and will be forced to remain in bed for 60 days. He would appreciate a visit from his friends. His room number is 226c.

Legion Auxiliary Past Presidents Entertained By Mrs. Harry Barter

The past presidents of the American Legion Auxiliary met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Barter.

A coffee for the benefit of the polio fund drive, to which the past presidents invite the public, will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry Barter Saturday, Jan. 26, from 8 a. m. to 12 noon. Arrangements for the coffee were planned at the meeting.

After the social hour Mrs. Barter and Mrs. C. E. Wing served delicious refreshments to the following:

Mrs. Ernest Cozart, Mrs. C. W. Whitley, Mrs. John Schwartz, Mrs. Arthur Moore, Mrs. James Gwaltney, Mrs. Walter Wheatley, Mrs. Kenneth O'Neal, Mrs. Mary Louise Schriener, Mrs. Harry Sisk, and Mrs. Herman Schwartz, a guest and community service chairman for the Auxiliary, who met with the committee to plan the polio fund benefit.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Olive Blackman.

Tito to Visit U. S. Despite Congress Blasts

WASHINGTON — Marshal Tito, strongman of Communist Yugoslavia, is still expected to visit the United States this year despite congressional objections.

But new outcries from several congressmen have complicated what already was a delicate matter.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said some time ago that he thought a Tito call on the United States would serve a useful purpose to build Tito up even though he is a Communist, as a symbol of independence from Russian control. The United States and Yugoslavia have been discussing the matter privately since.

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski (R-Wis.) said in an angry speech Wednesday that he would resign his House seat in protest if Tito accepts an invitation to visit the United States. Tito would be the first Communist official to get such an invitation.

Rep. Clare E. Hoffman (R-Mich.) backed O'Konski. He said if O'Konski resigned in protest, he should then run again for his old seat with the assurance of re-election.

Hoffman said O'Konski's constituents would send him back to Congress and "show the State Department what the people think" about Tito.

Rep. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) also opposed any invitation to Tito. He accused the Yugoslav boss of using "blackmail" in efforts to get U. S. Military aid.

The State Department refused comment on their statements.

Hollingsworth, of Joliet, is finance director in Gov. William G. Stratton's office. He was Stratton's choice for state party chairman in 1952.

The newspaper said Hollingsworth probably will resign as state chairman and be named national committeeman at a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee in Springfield Jan. 28.

Honor Grace Kelly

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (E.N.)—According to a report heard over WQXR, the radio station of the New York Times, the Consul General of Monaco reports "the Grace Kelly wedding stamps are completely sold out."

However, these stamps may be obtained from the Elmont Stamp Co.

Because the wedding set has evoked a lively interest in stamps of Monaco, Elmont's Paris Office has prepared a collection containing the Grace Kelly set of five, the Prince Rainier enthronement set of six stamps, the Bosio art set and the large sized diamond Olympic set; a total of 22 mint stamps for just $1.00 to introduce Elmont's approval service.

51 Deaths from Cold; Brief 'Warmup' Seen

By United Press Winter's bitterest weather maintained its devastating seige across the eastern half of the nation today, claiming an ever mounting toll of lives.

In the East, residents from New England to mid-Atlantic states dug out from the worst snowstorm of the winter. The storm Wednesday, borne on icy winds, dumped up to 8 inches of snow in Virginia and a foot or more in sections of New England.

A below zero cold wave gripped the nation's midlands overnight, but weathermen promised a brief "warmup" was on its way from, of all places, Canada.

Forecasters said cold air drained from Canada is being replaced with warmer Pacific air that will boost temperatures from below zero into the 20s in the Midwest. However, they warned a fresh onslaught of cold air is expected to invade the area by Friday.

Heavy Death Toll

A United Press count showed at least 51 deaths blamed on the weather since the start of the cold wave Monday. There were nine in Indiana, eight in New York, six in Illinois, three each in West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Virginia, N. Carolina and Michigan, two in New England, two in Iowa and one each in Mississippi and the District of Columbia.

Gregoire, Caroline Selected as Names For Rainier Infant

MONACO (UP) — Prince Rainier announced today the baby born to Princess Grace will be named Gregoire if a boy and Caroline if a girl.

And he said it will be born in the same hilltop palace where he was born and not in the Monaco maternity clinic as previously planned.

Princess Grace is expected to have the baby in a week to 10 days.

Rainier told newsmen that his first-born if a boy will have four Christian names: Gregoire, Georges, Pierre, Richard; if a girl she will have three: Caroline, Louise, Marguerite.

Rainier said the child will be "Monegasque."

"It will not be American," he said firmly.

It previously had been understood the baby would have dual nationality at least until early adulthood.

Hike UMW Assessments

WASHINGTON (UP) — John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers announced today that all working UMW members will be assessed $10 each to cover the cost of last year's "tremendous expenses."

The announcement was made by Lewis, UMW Vice President Thomas Kennedy, and Secretary-Treasurer John Owens in the union's bi-weekly publication, The Journal.

The announcement said the UMW incurred "tremendous expenses" such as litigation, settlement of law suits, the sustaining of the organizing campaigns, as well as the expenses incident to the holding of the last international convention.

The announcement said the 1956 convention expenses alone totalled almost $500,000.

As a result, the announcement said, the special assessment is necessary to maintain "a substantial treasury." It said half the $10 will be collected the last half of this month and the balance in the last half of February.

New York Central Officials, Employees Hold Safety Meeting

A railroad safety meeting of New York Central maintenance of way officials and employees was held Wednesday in the banquet room of the Elks club here and was attended by about 40 officials and employees of the track and maintenance department of the road.

The theme of the conference was a promotion of accident prevention among all employees and a general discussion of proper care of tools and equipment with the idea in mind at all times to observe safe and sane rules and practices.

Following the morning session, a noon luncheon was held at the Elks club and the afternoon session completed the round table discussion and was followed by some interesting films in color of maintenance of way men in action.

Officials attending were: C. M. Dabney, safety engineer, New York; R. K. Pattison, division engineer, Mattoon; J. T. Sullivan, assistant division engineer, Mattoon; A. F. Smith, trainmaster, Mt. Carmel; L. W. Moss, assistant B. and B. supervisor, Mt. Carmel, and P. L. David, track supervisor, Harrisburg.

Assistant to Chapman Dies

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Charles L. Allison, 53, administrative assistant to Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman, and publicity director for the Republican State Central Committee, died today at his home here, apparently of a heart ailment.

Allison, a former newsmen with the United Press and the Illinois State Journal, died in his sleep after returning from the funeral Wednesday of former U. S. Sen. C. Wayland Brooks. He formerly served Brooks as a secretary.

Allison also had been an administrative assistant to former U. S. Rep. Evan Howell.

He became aide to Chapman in 1954. Allison also published the Illinois county and township officials' magazine.

He had been under treatment for a heart ailment.

Grand Jury to Question Actress

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Actress Marie McDonald today was scheduled to appear before what may turn out to be the most critical audience of her career—the county grand jury—and tell the story of her kidnapping.

The grand jury reportedly wanted to question Miss McDonald about "certain inconsistencies" in her story of the Jan. 4 kidnapping. Actor Michael Wilding and movie columnist Harrison Carroll also were scheduled to testify before the Los Angeles County grand jury. Both Wilding and Carroll said they received a phone call from Miss McDonald during her abduction.

Administration To Ask Five-Cent Letter Postage

WASHINGTON (UP) — The administration will ask Congress within a few weeks to boost the cost of a first class stamp from 3 to 5 cents, informed sources said today.

These sources said President Eisenhower's budget request for a 654 million dollar a year hike in postal rates "presupposes" a nickel charge for first class letters.

The proposal is almost certain to run into strong congressional opposition.

After a sharp fight last year, the House approved an administration request that the postage rate for first class mail be boosted to 4 cents. But the bill died in the Senate.

The new administration proposal may be coupled with a plan that would practically eliminate a special airmail service. The administration is considering asking authority to carry all regular first class letters by air over long hauls.

If the regular letter rate were boosted to 5 cents and long distance mail moved by air, informed sources believe the separate 6-cent airmail service would "die off."

The Post Office now carries much first class mail by air in some parts of the country at no extra charge. But this is done on an "experimental" basis when airlines have extra space available.

The new administration request—like its proposals for postal rate increases in the last three years—will include rate hikes in second class (newspapers and magazines) and third class (advertising matter) mail, the sources said.

Crazed Man Fatally Shoots Doctor, Kills Self

DAILY CITY, Calif. (UP) — The lives of two women were shattered today because of a crazed man's impulse to violence that cost two lives — that of a prominent San Francisco doctor and his own.

The doctor was Robert Gilles de Mailly, 39, a French count by inheritance from his father, and thru his mother the scion of a prominent California family. He was an obstetrician.

De Mailly died in his office Wednesday as the result of two bullets fired by Michael J. Kepp, 64, agent for a moving firm. Kepp then took his own life.

But before firing a bullet into his mouth, Kepp tried also to kill his estranged wife, Ruth, 53, who was De Mailly's receptionist.

Mrs. Kepp had separated from her husband late last year after 15 years of marriage. She had been living with the De Mailly family at their home in San Francisco's fashionable Presidio Heights district until she got her divorce.

Mrs. Kepp had told friends she was afraid of her husband. One friend said:

"Mike said she'd never live to enjoy her freedom. We thought he was kidding."

Mrs. Kepp was under treatment today at a hospital for a serious arm wound.

Ex-Eldorado Man, Still At Large; Charged by FBI

MILWAUKEE (UP) — The FBI has charged an Illinois ex-convict, Lyman Austin Moore, 26, with the $17,400 robbery of the Bank of Milton, Wis., Jan. 4.

The FBI said Moore, originally of Chicago and Eldorado, Ill., was still at large. It would not disclose what information led to the complaint against him.

Moore was released from Illinois State Prison at Joliet in July, 1955, after serving time for larceny. The gunman met teller John Misener at the front door of the bank about 7 a. m., forced him to stuff the money into a suitcase the gunman was carrying, then taped Misener's hands and fled.

Bank officials said the robbery was committed by someone "familiar with our operations," because the time lock on the vault was set for 7 a. m.

Armed Bandit Holds Up Bank, Flees with $5,000

HAMPSHIRE, Ill. (UP) — Police today searched for an armed bandit who held up two employees of the State Bank of Hampshire and escaped with $5,000.

The bandit struck during the lunch hour Wednesday when only Mrs. Evelyn Bicknese, the bookkeeper, and Roger D. Bergloff, the cashier, were in the bank.

Bergloff said the bandit had been in the bank the day before, apparently to "case the robbery." The cashier said the man drew a .38 caliber revolver and ordered Bergloff to turn over money from the cash drawers.

The bandit ordered Bergloff to open the safe also, but fled when Bergloff said he couldn't.

The bandit, described as about 38 years old, 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighing 170 pounds, eluded police roadblocks on Kane County highways after the holdup.

Labor Leaders Say Ike Sympathetic to Minimum Pay Plea

WASHINGTON (UP) — A group of labor leaders said Wednesday President Eisenhower showed a "sympathetic attitude" to their plea for wider coverage by the $1 minimum wage.

Ten AFL-CIO officials made the statement after a 30-minute conference with the President at the White House.

Spokesman Arthur Goldberg, general counsel of the AFL-CIO industrial union department, said the conferees "mentioned" labor's proposal that the minimum wage be raised to $1.25. But he said the discussion "did not get down to specifics."

The labor leaders, who lunched with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, were accompanied to the White House by Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell. Goldberg said both Mitchell and Nixon also were "sympathetic."

Pipe Line Company Gas Blast Kills Three Workers

LIBERAL, Kan. (UP) — An explosion shattered the main engine room and office of Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co. late Wednesday, killing three workmen and injuring numerous others.

At least eight workmen were hospitalized and two of them were listed as in critical condition. Several other men received minor injuries that required only first aid.

The explosion rocked a wide area and shook windows in Liberal, 13 miles away. Officials said a cylinder in a gasoline engine used in compressing gas ruptured, allowing gas to enter the engine room and setting off the blast.

The explosion caused a cutback in service by the company, which has markets in eight mid-continent states. However, officials said none of the municipalities it serves would be affected.

The dead men were identified as Melvin Swafford, 35; Ivan Hill, 40, and Jim Haynes, 30, all of the Liberal area.

Army Claims Older Youths May Enlist For 6-Month Duty

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Army claimed today that it has implied authority in a 1952 law to permit draft age youths to escape induction by volunteering for 6 months active duty training with the reserves.

Under a new revision of the reserve program, the Army will permit men between the age of 18 1/2 and 25 to volunteer for six months of active duty training followed by 5 1/2 years of participation in the ready reserve.

Chairman Carl Vinson of the House Armed Services Committee has challenged the legality of this new provision, claiming it apparently violates the intent if not the letter of the 1955 reserve law. Vinson noted that under this law youths had to volunteer for the six month program before reaching draft age of 18 1/2.

Believe Marine Slain by Civilian

LOUISVILLE, Ill. (UP) — Authorities today believed a young Indiana Marine was slain by a civilian rather than a fellow serviceman.

Sheriff Harry Sproat said at first it was thought the victim, Pvt. Larry M. Kirk, was murdered in another state and his body dumped in Illinois.

Kirk's body was found in a weed patch near Flora, Ill., last Dec. 26. He had been shot in the back.

The sheriff said, "If another serviceman had killed him, he would have known about the hiding place for money we found on Kirk."

Authorities found five $20 bills hidden in Kirk's watch pocket. His wallet was missing.

'56 Coal Production Higher Than 1955

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Illinois mines turned out more than 46,600,000 tons of coal during 1956, about 2,400,000 tons more than during 1955. Mines and Minerals Director B. H. Schull said Wednesday.

The director said the 1956 production was the highest in Illinois since 1951.

December coal production for Illinois was about 4,200,000 tons, Schull said, slightly below December, 1955, output. A total of 137 mines in 35 Illinois counties were responsible for the month's output.

Oak Ridge Strike Ends

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (UP) — Some 1,200 construction employees obeyed union back-to-work orders today and returned to their jobs, ending a two-day strike at three atomic energy plants.

Hijacked Plane in Freedom Bid, But Wife to See U. S. First

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Josef Jakoby helped hijack an airliner at gunpoint seven months ago to escape from Communist Hungary. But his wife who escaped only last weekend is likely to see the United States first, U. S. officials said today. Jakoby, whose aunt, Mrs. William I. Farmer, lives in Chicago, joined eight other Hungarians in a daring and successful flight to freedom last July. They captured a Hungarian airliner in a bloody battle and forced the pilot to fly the plane to West Germany. The eight are still waiting in refugee houses here for visas to the United States but American escapee officials said their chances are virtually nil under the present laws. They arrived too late to get a place on the U. S. quota list under the refugee relief act. But Jakoby's wife, Julia, will be on her way to the United States within a week or so. She will be admitted under President Eisenhower's orders allowing Hungarians who fled after the Oct. 23 uprising to enter as "parolees."

Courageous Wife of Football Coach Named Illinois Polio Mother of Year

MOLINE, Ill. — The courageous wife of a high school football coach and mother of two was named "Polio Mother of the Year" for the State of Illinois today by the March of Dimes.

Mrs. Jeanne Wrenn of East Moline, wife of John "Jocko" Wrenn, former Illinois football great, was honored Wednesday, and presented the award by Andy Gloski, State Representative of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, on behalf of Mrs. Donald Reno, State Adviser, and William Fay, State March of Dimes chairman.

The 33-year-old mother, severely stricken by polio in 1954, "typifies the uphill struggle many such young mothers have made to return to their families and maintain a near-normal household for children and husband," according to Mrs. Reno.

In a congratulatory telegram to Mrs. Wrenn, Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, said, "We are proud to have played a role in your return to useful living but you have accomplished the hardest part of the job yourself through your steadfast courage and will to recover. I know that we both pray that the Salk vaccine will make this struggle unnecessary for others in the future." The Rock Island County chapter of the March of Dimes organization has spent almost $20,000 to help Mrs. Wrenn.

Mrs. Wrenn was hospitalized for more than a year and was almost completely paralyzed after polio struck in mid-July of 1954. She was in an iron lung for several months. In May of 1956 the National Foundation chapter sent her to Warm Springs, Georgia, where she underwent corrective surgery and was fitted with braces and other equipment.

It takes a lot of equipment to enable Mrs. Wrenn to live at home. She had a wheelchair with a special posture panel, a "port-a-lift" to help her in and out of bed, a bar over the bed to help her rise or change position, a corset to hold up her shoulders, special arm slings attached to the wheelchair and leg braces. But the important thing about all of this paraphernalia is that it makes it possible for her to care for herself, do some household chores and be a part of her family.

Such is her enthusiasm for her husband's work that Mrs. Wrenn hasn't missed any game of his football teams at East Moline United Township high school. Two years ago physicians permitted her out of the iron lung long enough to witness the games from a hospital cart. Now she watches from her wheelchair.

John Wrenn was a guard on the 1946 University of Illinois "Rose Bowl" team and captain of the squad in 1947. He came to East Moline as assistant football coach in 1948 and has been head coach since 1949.

The Wrenn children are a girl, Richey, 11, and a boy, John Jr., 5.

To Build Stadium At Naval Academy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — Construction is expected to start in mid-March on a new $3 million football stadium at the U. S. Naval Academy, it was announced today.

Adm. William Smedberg III, Academy superintendent, said the double-decked, 31,000 seat stadium would be known as "Navy and Marine Corps Stadium" and would replace 16,000 seat Thompson Field as the site of Navy's home football games.

Bull Dogs Play At Marion Friday Night

Will Meet Herrin
Tigers at Davenport
Gym Saturday Evening

The Harrisburg Bull Dogs journey to Marion tomorrow night to meet the fast-moving Wildcats in the second outing between the two schools. Marion took the South Seven tilt played here.

Like Harrisburg, Marion boys are small compared with a number of the other schools but they are fast and can shoot. Marion right now is 2-4 in the conference and Harrisburg is 1-5.

Saturday night the local fans will get to see one of the finest teams in the state when the Herrin Tigers come to Davenport gym for another loop battle. Herrin, at the top of the standings with 5-0, topped powerful Pinckneyville, 45-42, on the Pinckneyville floor Tuesday evening.

The Tigers swapped Harrisburg on the locals' trip to Herrin in mid-December. The Herrin attack features John Tidwell, outstanding 6-4 jump shot artist.

Other Friday night South Seven games are Centralia at Mt. Vernon, a contest between two good teams that are old-time rivals, and Benton at West Frankfort, another arch-rivalry battle. Benton upset Frankfort the first time the two teams met.

Besides Harrisburg at Herrin Saturday night, other loop tilts are Marion at Centralia and Mt. Vernon at Benton. West Frankfort will meet Johnston City in a non-conference breather.

South Seven standings:

Herrin	6	0
West Frankfort	4	2
Centralia	4	2
Mt. Vernon	3	3
Marion	2	4
Harrisburg	1	5
Benton	1	5

Carbondale Attucks and Carrier Mills, two of southern Illinois' unbeaten basketball squads are scheduled to meet at Carrier Mills Feb. 1.

The two coaches, Joe Russell of Attucks and "Kayo" Willis of Carrier Mills, swapped scouting trips last weekend.

Willis and others saw Attucks win from Sesser Friday and Russell headed a scouting party to CM Saturday, watching the Wildcats win a close one from Rosiclare.

Eldorado apparently is back on the Marion football schedule after a one-year lapse.

Although a contract hasn't been signed, Eldorado Coach Al Adams reports a verbal agreement for Eldorado to play at Marion in the opening game of the 1957 season. Johnston City and Norris City also will be on the Eagle schedule this grid season. These three teams replace Anna, Christopher and Carmi from the list of schools met in 1956. Other football opponents for Eldorado will be Harrisburg, West Frankfort and Benton of the South Seven, McLeansboro, Metropolis and Cairo.

Norris City, starting football in 1956 and playing more or less a "B" schedule, is adding strength to the schedule for this coming season and probably will join the Southern Illinois conference in the near future.

The conference will welcome a fifth member. At present the loop includes McLeansboro, Metropolis, Johnston City and Eldorado.

"Coach of the Year" Bowden Wyatt of the University of Tennessee will join Notre Dame Coach Terry Brennan on the program for the annual football coaching clinic at the University of Illinois April 5-6. Three high school coaches also will appear. They are: Lou Baker, Arcola; Jim Evers, Centralia; T. B. "Tiny" Huddleston, Thornton of Harvey.

From California comes an entry for last week's "You Pick 'em." Came too late to be considered, but glad to hear from a West Coast reader.

Jerry Blackburn, stationed at the Naval Radio Station, Imperial Beach, Calif., sent a note along with his entry stating he was a regular reader of The Register sports page and was especially interested in the Galatia basketball team.

He picked 7 of ten games in the "You Pick 'em", including two of the more or less upsets. Blackburn predicted the Galatia-over-Ridgway and McLeansboro-over-Carmi victories.

Blackburn's complete address: Jerry Blackburn SN 487-14-09, Box 2, Imperial Radio Station (R), Imperial Beach, Calif.

Two Gallatin county schools have announced homecoming and Queen coronation programs for February.

Ridgway will crown its Basketball Queen Friday, Feb. 1, when Rosiclare comes for a Greater Egyptian conference game.

Equality's Basketball Queen will be crowned Feb. 13, when Mills Prairie will be the visiting team.

Ridgway Edges Equality, 60-59; Cave-in-Rock Beats Pope County

Rosiclare Meets Galatia in First
Semifinal Tilt of Tourney Tonight

Ridgway and Cave-in-Rock advanced through first round play in the Greater Egyptian conference tournament at Ridgway Wednesday evening and will meet tonight in the lower bracket semifinal game.

Opening action in semifinal play has Rosiclare, winner from Shawneetown, meeting Galatia, who drew a bye through the first round.

The tournament will close Friday with two games.

Ridgway was forced to the limit to take a 60-59 decision from Equality in last night's first game. The winning basket, that changed almost certain Ridgway defeat into a thrilling victory, came just as the final horn sounded.

Ridgway now owns three victories over Equality, the last two by one-point margins. Ridgway took the title of the Equality tournament by beating the host club 58-57.

With 11 seconds remaining to be played Equality held a 59-58 lead and even more important, had possession of the ball. In a last final flurry of action the ball was knocked out of bounds and Equality had it to throw in. However, Ridgway gained possession, passed to 6-8 Roger Suttner near the basket and big boy got the shot off just as the horn sounded. The ball swished through the nets and Ridgway was the winner, 60-59.

Ridgway started with a rush, hitting the first seven attempts from the field and in the opening minutes Ridgway scored every time they had possession of the ball. Nine fielders were racked up in 11 tries. On the two misses a Ridgway player took the rebound and scored to give the team an outstanding shooting record.

The second and third quarters belonged to Equality and at one time in the fourth period Equality was on top by seven points. The loss of two regulars—Smith and Glover—in the final minutes of play was a blow to Equality's chances.

With 2:10 to play the score was tied 57-57 and with :50 to go the score was knotted 58-58. Then came the hair-raising finish.

Ridgway had a 533 shooting average with 24 hits in 45 tries and Equality scored 22 of 62 for a 355 average. Ridgway missed 21 free throws and Equality 12.

The Cave-in-Rock and Pope County game, won by the Rockers 68-58, was a good contest, but lacked the thrills of the session opener.

Cave led at the end of every quarter of play, but Pope was al-

American League Teams Schedule 237 Night Tilts

CHICAGO (AP)—A record high of 237 night games will be played in the American League during the 1957 season, continuing the trend toward more after-dark activity.

The Baltimore Orioles, who played 42 night games last season, are the 1957 aught champions. The Orioles, who enjoyed a fairly successful 1957 season at the gate despite their lowly finish in the A. L. race, will play 47 games after dark in 1957, while the Kansas City Athletics, who played 44 last year, are down for 43 in 1957 for second place, according to the schedule released today by league headquarters.

The Washington Senators, last year's after dark champions with 45 games, are scheduled for 38 in 1957. The Indians are down for 31 night games, one up from last season, while the Chicago White Sox are scheduled for 22, one less than in 1957.

The Detroit Tigers and Boston Red Sox, who have been holding the line for fewer night games, have upped their 1957 after dark schedule from 14 each to 21 and 18, respectively. The New York Yankees, who played 18 last year, are up one for 1957.

This year's total tops 1956's night game schedule by nine, but falls considerably short of the National League's figure of 259.

The Orioles and Senators open the season in Washington on April 15, one day sooner than the others. The season opened on April 17 last year and closed on Sept. 30. The 1957 season closes one day sooner.

Ohio State Shows Overall Balance In Cage Statistics

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State leads the Big Ten basketball race because of overall balance and sharp shooting, conference statistics indicated today.

The Buckeyes have connected at a 456 percentage on field goals and have averaged over 77 points a game, a scoring mark topped only by Illinois with a 90 point record. Ohio State also has held its opponents to 67 points per game, second lowest in the conference. In individual scoring the Buck-

WCTU President Protests Wine at Inaugural Balls

EVANSTON, Ill. — The president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union Wednesday night sent a telegram to President Eisenhower protesting plans to serve wine at the four inaugural balls next Monday.

Mrs. Glenn G. Hayes said she was, "amazed and disillusioned" at what she termed a "reversal in policy" by the administration in planning to serve wine at the inaugural functions.

"May I respectfully request that only non-alcoholic beverages be served on this historic occasion?" the telegram said in part.

Mrs. Hayes said she had been informed by the WCTU's Washington office that it was planned to serve 500 cases of wine at the four balls.

A DOCTOR for BLUE JAY COVE

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

Copyright 1956 by Elizabeth Seifert. Distributed by NEA Service.

THE STORY: When Dr. Alex Ward returns from the hospital he finds his mother very angry over something. Alex goes to his apartment, over what was once a garage behind the large boarding house, to eat alone with Cass.

XIV

Alex ate with appetite, and she waited until he was almost through before she asked if his mother had told him what had happened.

"She thought she was telling me," he answered, "but she didn't make much sense. I was hoping that you could straighten things out for me."

Cass nodded. "Well, I can, perhaps, but you got a letter, too." She went over to the desk, and brought him the Special Delivery. He straightened the sheet in his hand, and read aloud from the letter which his sister Marcy had written to him. He was beginning to get the full import of the message—Cass saw perspiration bead upon his upper lip.

"Dear Alexander, I hate to do this to a good guy, but here are the facts, Sugar. Last Saturday I up and eloped with Leo Powers—Captain, army — met him at a dance three weeks ago. He's been stationed at our local fortress, and now is leaving for duty in Germany on Saturday next. Me, too."

"He's a good-looking guy, Alex—or I think so, but these crew cuts don't do much for any man. He's blond, and not too tall—but, anyway, it's done. I knew Aunt Cordy wouldn't like any part of this step, so I took it first, and told her about it afterward. There was no time anyway for tulle and smiles. Love, darling, and give some of it to your bride. Marcy Ward Powers."

Alex's voice trailed away, the letter hung limp in his fingers. Cass filled his coffee cup. He glanced up at her, then wiped his face with his coat sleeve. "What do I do now?" he asked, as if he really wanted the information.

The next day Alex wrote a couple of letters asking for information on Captain Powers. Aunt Cordy received a letter from the school which Marcy had attended. She threw it into the waste basket, importantly indifferent. A short notice of the wedding appeared in the local paper—few people mentioned the matter to Cass, and to Alex.

But before much of anything could be said or done, even before Alex and Cass had really assimilated the development, the whole thing was overshadowed by the return home of Matthias Knapp. He didn't surprise anyone; he sent various telegrams.

Sue coached small Bill to say, "Hi, Daddy!" And he said it to every man he saw, indiscriminately, which Sue said laughing loudly, could develop complications.

Aunt Cordy sat out on the sidewalk, though the day was not warm. Autumn at last had decided to come to Blue Jay Cove.

At two o'clock — "Cass, he's here!" she shrieked up toward the apartment windows.

And at the hospital the whole staff came out on the columned verandah, a few patients with them. Cleophas came running and stumbling across the lawn with the baby, and Alex went swiftly down to rescue the child.

"Hi, Daddy," said Bill.

And Matt made a big thing of searching for "an old mother." It was all very gay, and hectic—small Bill burst into roars of weeping which Sue had to ignore while she finished her over-elaborate gag of presenting Matt with the "keys to the city."

For the next months, as many as three, "nothing happened." But, as it developed, really, everything happened.

There was, for instance, that time down at the creek . . . Alex found himself with a couple of free hours, and in the late afternoon decided to go for a walk. Cass, he discovered, was playing bridge, so he went alone, but followed what had become her custom of going down to the creek and along its tree-bordered bank toward the river. One didn't see many people there, so the man and woman whom Alex did see that afternoon attracted his interest before he realized that the man was Matt—and the woman, Lenoire Black.

Not wishing to spy—but certainly not wanting to be seen—Alex stepped against the protective coloration of a giant tree trunk. And frowned. Those two . . . Lenoire's vivid, laughing face. He had never seen her so animated! And Matt—"Man at work!" thought Alex grimly.

They'd been shopping. Their arms were full of bundles. And they were cutting down through these woods toward Lenoire's houseboat.

Dr. Matt's return to service at House Springs had done little to better Alex's medical situation in Blue Jay Cove. He had expected less of Matt than had Cass, but even he was disappointed. Matt's unreliability, coupled with Sue's determination to retire from practice, had loaded Alex with work beyond all necessity.

"I wouldn't mind working in a one-man hospital, if it actually was that," he complained to Cass. "But with admissions geared to two men, and a possible third doctor, the only man functioning is getting a bad sag in the middle of his back."

"Doesn't Matt do any work, Alex?"

"Enough to make it seem that we have a second doctor. We schedule our day's work for two men—and he walks out for several hours, or is missing at the day's start, and doesn't show up till around 10. Or he leaves at three with out-patients still in the waiting rooms."

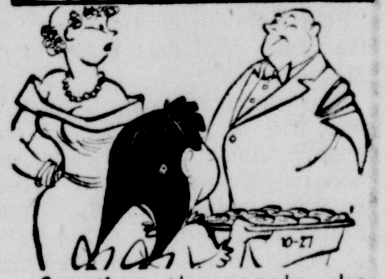

"Does Sue disappear too?"

"Matt takes off solo—or at least not with Sue."

Warren L. Engle, Kroger Branch Manager, Named Division Vice President

Warren L. Engle, branch manager for the Kroger Co. in this area, has been appointed to the newly-created position of vice president of the company's Carbondale Division, it has been announced by Joseph B. Hall, president of the retail food firm. The division area here formerly was known as the Carbondale Branch. Mr. Hall said that establishment of the position and appointment of division vice presidents is a logical development in Kroger's decentralization program which has been under way for some time.

Mr. Engle began with Kroger as a grocery manager in the

Sullivan Named Dean of U. of I. College of Law

CHICAGO — Russell N. Sullivan, 56, today was named dean of the University of Illinois college of law, to succeed Dean Albert J. Harno, who is retiring.

The appointment is effective Sept. 1, when Harno leaves office. Harno has headed the college since 1922.

Sullivan, a member of the U. of I. law school faculty since 1939, is also an alumnus of the law school. He is a native of Corning, Ohio, and received his master of laws degree at Columbia University.

Sullivan was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1947 and the Ohio bar in 1937.

He served as chairman of the building committee for the two-million-dollar new law building dedicated at Champaign last spring.
